

Reviews

AF DX Fisheye-Nikkor 10.5mm f/2.8G ED-IF

JAN 2005

Professional Photographer
January 2005

In his in-depth review of Nikon's AF DX Fisheye-Nikkor 10.5mm F/2.8G ED IF lens, Ellis Vener praises Nikon and the lens for bridging a gap that has needed attention for a very long time. Praising the lens' advanced technology and precision; Vener writes, "If your goal is to have the primary subject in definite focus, it [this lens] will make your life easier." Also lauding the way it handles and its compact design, Vener is impressed with a lens that truly fills a need for photographers.