

MAR 2004 - JAN 2005

North American Hunter
January 2005

"The Nikon Coolpix 5200 is a great digital camera for today's on-the-go hunter. It's small, simple to use, dependable and takes outstanding photos."

Egear
December 2004

"Nikon's Coolpix line has evolved to include a model for just about every lifestyle."

"Offering an in-camera red-eye reduction feature, the 5200 also features 5.1 megapixel resolution and the ever-present 3x optical zoom."

"One step above the pack is Nikon's 15 scene modes."

"Nikon brings a robust little model to this category."

Wired
December 2004

"Editor's Pick"

"Light enough to wear on a lanyard all day."

"The 5.1 megapixel 5200 is a serious performer."

"It captures bustling street scenes with color and clarity worthy of National Geographic."

"Features range from hand-holding scene modes to pro-level options, like white-balance bracketing."

Digital Photographer
July 2004

"Nikon's new In-Camera Red Eye Fix automatically analyzes an image and corrects the dreaded problem."

Shutterbug
June 2004

"The Coolpix 5200 offers built in redevye removal. This should prove useful for the tons of redevye-plagued pictures that people e-mail or post because they don't know how to fix it or can't be bothered."

"The 3x optical zoom features ED glass for sharper pictures."

Men's Health
June 2004

"You'll never go wrong with a Nikon."

"Power-up time: 1.84 seconds. Quick-draw McGraw."

"Offers robust options."

"Nice shape, and the lightest unit here."

USA Today
March 2, 2004

"Those awful red eyes in family photos might just be a thing of the past, thanks to the Nikon Coolpix 5200."