

FEBRUARY 24, 2020

Nikon | LEARN &
EXPLORE

BEGINNER

Use Long Lenses or Come Back Too Short

A tip from Nikon Ambassador Moose Peterson

“ Use your longest lenses for wildlife photography or you will come back short. Try to get close physically and then use the angle of view of your lens to control the background (focus/bokeh/compression) to tell the story. ”

To see more of Moose Peterson's photography, visit his website at www.moosepeterson.com.